Vol. XXVIII. MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, MIDDLEBURY, VT., OCTOBER 1, 1930 No. 1

ALMOST NOT ENOUGH SAYS PRES. MOODY IN OPENING ADDRESS

Education is the Development of Accuracy in Thought.

NOTHING TOO SMALL FOR OUR ATTENTION

The necessity for being exact was the theme of an address delivered by President Paul D. Moody in Mead Memorial Chapel Thursday morning at the opening service of the college year.

In introduction Dr. Moody cited two examples: one a Vermont Yankee, Thaddeus Fairbanks, who was not satisfied with "about right", and who invented the Fairbanks scale, known the world over as a symbol of exactness; the other Louis Pasteur, a French scientist whose passion for the absolute led to a remarkable service to mankind. These two men had one thing in common, their hatred of the "almost", the "approximate", the "good enough".

"Education", said the president, "is the development of this dissatisfaction with the almost, and the cultivation of a standard of exactness. This superficial age has a tendency to know a little of everything but not enough about anything. College ought to correct this, and the extent to which a college trains a man to know something thoroughly is the measure of the success of that institution. There are institutions which endeavor to impart all that can be ascertained about certain things, but before the average man is ready for such training it has been increasingly felt that he should lay the foundation for this intensive study in broader fields. And prior to this he needs to be taught to live, not in the physical sense but in the realm of the spirit."

The development of the powers of observation and habits of accuracy, Dr. Moody went on to say, is perhaps the best factor in the training of the mind. "Nothing in this world is too small for careful attention. You may make a mistake in your figuring in school or college and get by, but you will not get by in the world. We set passing marks at 60 but if you are sixty per cent right in the report you make to your employer, you need look for no promotion, but look for another job."

At this point the speaker paused to explain that he did not recommend the old-maid tendency to carry details too far, for such a habit may lead us into ludicrous positions. But the fact that we cannot do everything well ought to make us even more anxious to do some one thing superlatively well. "It is this which, if you want it, college can give to you."

"First of all there is the accuracy of observation. Millions saw the pendulum motion of hanging objects before Galileo really saw it. We see and yet do not see. And unless this power of observation is developed college cannot be a success.

"Next is the accuracy of recording and reproducing observations. Training is essential here, for two people who have seen exactly the same thing may have absolutely different recollections of it afterward.

"Then comes accuracy in thought and speech — powers which are dependent upon exactness of observation. One of the great differences in the educated mind is the ability to see clearly and register correctly. The failure to do so is the cause of endless confusion in the world.

"If then", President Moody concluded, "you wish either to benefit your day

Sophomores Required to Pass Bible Examination

At a special meeting after Chapel yesterday Pres. Moody reminded the sophomore class that they must pass a compulsory Bible examination before their senior year.

The examination is the result of action taken by the trustees of Middlebury College last spring and will be required of all graduating classes, beginning with the class of '33.

This action is similiar to requirements of other colleges, Pres. Moody stated. All Harvard graduates must pass a German examination, requiring at least two years of German, while at Columbia every student must pass a swimming test before graduation.

"Prexy" announced that he would prepare a syllabus of all the necessary information, and is planning to give a series of lectures on the Bible some time this year. Credits will not be given for this course and it is not compulsory. The exam will be given by Pres. Moody and he will correct the papers.

Pres. Moody suggested that the sophomores appoint a committee to confer with him on the best means of passing this requirement and recommended that the class of '33 take the examination this year if possible.

CLASS OF '34 ENDS WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Meetings, Lectures and Receptions Are Included in Successful Program.

"Freshman Week" has again initiated a new class into Middlebury. The orientation week was carried on along the same lines as in the past two years.

The activities of the week opened with a mass meeting held at the Playhouse Monday evening. This was followed by an informal reception held at the Egbert Starr library. Here the class of 1934 had a general social time and an opportunity to meet their classmates and some of the faculty.

Tuesday, both the men and women began registration in the gymnasium. Dr. F .N. Seerley of Springfield conducted hygiene lectures for the men at the Playhouse during the morning and the afternoon. The women attended a meeting of the Student Government association.

Lectures on the use of the library were completed on Wednesday. Registration was also brought to a close. In the evening Dean Hazeltine gave an informal talk to the men at the Playhouse. This was followed by a reception by President and Mrs. Moody at their home, 3 South street.

Opening exercises of the college were held Thursday morning. In the afternoon the class of '34 took the psychological examination in the gymnasium. The activities of the week were brought to a close with "Middlebury Night", a program conducted by the mens' college to welcome the incoming men.

Waubanakee Sponsors Dance Saturday Night

Sponsored by Waubanakee, senior honorary society, the first informal dance of the college year will be held Saturday evening in McCullough gymnasium. The dance is open to the entire student body.

The informal will begin at seven and Thayer '31 and R. H. Amerman '31, managers.

A five-piece orchestra, including members of the Black Panthers, well known undergraduate dance band of the college ,have been engaged for the occasion.

The regular admission charge of one dollar per couple and seventy-five cents stag will be in force as usual.

NEW ENTERTAINMENT COURSE ANNOUNCED FOR COMING SEASON

Artists, Entertainers, and Lecturers of Note to Appear.

REAR ADMIRAL BYRD WILL GIVE LECTURE

The Middlebury College entertainment course for the coming season, recently announced by Professor Lewis J. Hathaway, head of the college entertainment committee, promises to bring to Middlebury the most distinguished group of artists, entertainers, and lecturers ever assembled for this annual series.

The course will open October 31 with Barrere's Little Symphony orchestra. The orchestra will be remembered as the same group that came to Middlebury two years ago giving one of the most enjoyable, artistic, and finished concerts of the season. The entertainments of this organization fill a unique place in the musical life of the country. The charm of their informality and their intimacy, heightened by the inimitable talks with which Mr. Barrere prefaces each number that he conducts, has no equal.

Thursday, November 20, Carola Goya will appear in a recital of Spanish dances as the second event of the course. She will be assisted by Beatrice Weller, harpist. With a varied, entertaining program and gorgeous costumes, she is a rare treat for any audience.

Myra Hess, the distinguished pianist, will appear as the third entertainment course event on Thursday, December 4. Miss Hess was scheduled for a concert last year, but illness in her family prevented her from leaving London. She is a pianist of surpassing excellence, and is considered one of the leading pianists, if not the leading pianist, of the present generation, having created an emphatic sensation during her former American visit. She plays equally well Bach, Beethovan, Schumann and Mozart, and is considered one of the best Chopin players of the present time.

Tuesday, January 13, is the date for the appearance of Cornelia Otis Skinner, offering her own character sketches. Miss Skinner, the daughter of the beloved actor, is one of the foremost American entertainers. Not only has she played in America, but she has worked extensively in France under the great French masters and is an artist of the highest rank.

It is not often that lecture committees have an opportunity to secure so distinguished a world figure as Guglielmo Ferrero, famous Italian historian, philosopher, and lecturer, who will appear Tuesday, March 10. His new book "The Unity of the World" has recently been published.

All events are to be given in the Congregational Church except the dance recital November 20, which will be given in the college gymnasium. Full course tickets are $6.00. Half course tickets, admitting the holder to any three entertainments, are $4.00. Single admissions are $1.50. Tickets will be on sale beginning Friday, October 17, at Cushman's.

Byrd to Lecture.

In addition to the above program, the committee has arranged to have Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd come to Middlebury on Friday, February 13. This great scientist and explorer will give a lecture with motion pictures on his history making explorations.

It has been the aim of the entertain-

CAMPUS Tryouts Are to Report Tomorrow

A special meeting will be held in room 9, Old Chapel, at 4:30 p. m. All freshmen men and women planning to enter publications activity while in college are invited to attend. The general plan of CAMPUS work will be explained, and instruction sheets will be distributed.

It is essential for those seeking CAMPUS positions to report for work at this initial meeting, for the higher offices of the editorial staff are gained by promotions coming through elections held at regular intervals, and if a person allows himself to fall behind the other members of his own class, he is practically eliminated.

The CAMPUS offers its members thorough training in practical writing, as well as valuable experience in administration and management. Prominence in the work of the paper also places one in line for positions on his class Kaleidoscope (the junior annual), and other publications.

Members of the class of 1934 are therefore urged to come to the tryout meeting tomorrow afternoon in Old Chapel 9.

SEVEN PROFESSORS ADDED TO FACULTY

Miss Dutton and Professors Voter and Perkins Take Sabbatical Leave.

Seven new professors have been added to the faculty for this year. Two of these are taking the places of professors on sabbatical leave, four are taking the places of professors who have left Middlebury for other positions and one is an addition to the teaching staff.

The following changes have been made: Clemente Pereda for Dr. Concha, as head of the Spanish department; E. B. Womack and J. S. Thomas for Professors Corson and Voter in the chemistry department; B. F. Wissler for Prof. L. R. Perkins as professor of mathematics; Paul Rusby for Prof. Griffin as assistant professor of economics; and Marie Bourgarel for Mlle. Vidon as instructor of French. L. B. Hammond has been added to the faculty as assistant professor of English. Miss Eleanor Sprague will act as dietition during the absence of Miss Dutton.

Wissler to Teach Physics

Benjamin F. Wissler, former instructor of physics at Muhlenberg college will conduct the classes in mathematics usually taught by Professor Llewellyn R. Perkins, who is on leave. In addition he is handling laboratory work in physics. Mr. Wissler has been teaching at Muhlenberg since receiving his B. S. degree from that institution in 1926.

JOHN A. FLETCHER DIES JULY FIFTH FOLLOWING ILLNESS

Was Treasurer of College for Twenty-Nine Years.

HELD MANY OFFICES OF RESPONSIBILITY

President Moody Pays Tribute to Him in Statement to CAMPUS.

John A. Fletcher, of the class of 1887, treasurer and trustee of Middlebury College, died at Porter Hospital July 5. His death came after a week's illness following an operation.

Mr. Fletcher became the fifteenth treasurer of Middlebury College in 1901, and served in that capacity until the time of his death. Treasurer of the college for 29 years under three different presidents, he displayed great judgement, and no small measure of the financial standing of Middlebury College is due to his sound counsel and untiring efforts.

John Albert Fletcher, son of Albert Augustine and Delia S. (Murray) Fletcher was born in Bridport, Vt., June 7, 1865. He prepared for college at Middlebury High school and graduated from Middlebury College in 1887. After a year of foreign travel, he entered the Middlebury National Bank, and except for three years spent in the bank of West Superior, Wisconsin, he was continously connected with that institution until his death, becoming successively assistant cashier, director, and vice-president. During the years of 1896 to 1898 he served on the staff of Governor Grout, a position obtained by direct appointment of the governor. In 1900 he was appointed secretary to the board of trustees of Middlebury College, and the following year he was appointed a member and elected treasurer. He was married in 1898 to Sophia Warner, who with two children, Paris and Mary Warner, survives him. An elder son, Lieutenant James Warner, graduate of West Point, was killed in an army aviation accident in 1925.

Mr. Fletcher was a member of the Congregational Church of Middlebury, the Masons, Delta Kappa Epsilon, a director and treasurer of Porter Hospital and the President of the Middlebury Country club.

In a statement prepared especially for the CAMPUS, President Paul D. Moody says: "So completely was he the soul of honor and integrity that it was natural that his name should come first when any position was under consideration calling for a man whom everyone trusted.

"His service to the town and the college had a good deal to do with breaking down barriers between the two, and that there is so little of the town and gown hostility here, which is felt in so many other colleges, is in largest measure due to Mr. Fletcher.

"In his discharge of his office many students can testify to the innate kindness of the man. He was the most loyal of friends, the most thoughtful of neighbors, the most devoted servant of the many interests he served. The tributes which have been received since his death from the many concerns with which he in his official capacity had relations, show the impress he made upon all who knew him."

Funeral services were held in the Middlebury Congregational Church Tuesday, July 8, with President Moody officiating. Interment was at the Middlebury cemetery.

Vol. XXVIII. October 1, 1930 No. 1

TO THE FRESHMAN.

Quite a few books and articles are published on what the average young freshman should know, but there are always some who are not informed and many who cannot understand. Hence, a word or two on college life and what it is all about.

No matter where he comes from, the usual freshman is green and inexperienced. He has had no contact with college tradition and undergraduate custom, since familiarity with these comes only with the passage of time. Thus, it may be pointed out to the freshman that he should be quiet, courteous, and observant until the period of apprenticeship is over. In later years, as upperclassman and alumnus, he will appreciate the value of the training.

To some freshmen, such restraint is hateful, and their resentment is often shown in unmistakable, if childish, ways. Usually confined to a minute percentage of the class, such a group is easily controlled. Just as turbulent recruits in the army, such freshmen are disciplined thoroughly until they see the error of their ways. Sometimes this method is not enough, and in some cases the man remains a misfit through four long years.

In many schools, students are pushed along as fast as they will go. Teachers hold the stick over recalcitrant heads and urge their students to work where there should be no urging. In college such methods are not employed. Much good instruction is available here and valuable information is ladled out with every lecture. The difference lies in the fact that every undergraduate is on his own. He has an unlimited opportunity to increase in knowledge and understanding of life, the world and its problems. But the professor will not entreat the freshman to work rather, the student is given the material with the personal responsibility of doing with it as he sees fit. Hence, rigid self-control of mind and strict discipline of habit is necessary to execute assignments diligently. The freshman has four years in which to cultivate these qualities. Although graduation may seem far distant, he should remember that time is the most precious of all commodities. He is advised to use it well.

Extra-curricular activities, athletics and otherwise, occupy a unique niche in college life. Student government and management of extensive and responsible affairs is common and no exception exists here. As in every form of social activity, the inexperienced man must pass through a period of apprenticeship. If he applies himself industriously, his effort will not pass unnoticed. Gradually, through hard work, he will rise from the mass to positions of trust and importance.

One point, however, should be kept in mind, and that is the matter of choosing an activity wisely. Many campus activities are extremely complex and a hurried decision is liable to result in time wasted. Incidentally, the freshman is advised to concentrate on one or two activities, since a small number can be carried without loss of time or expense of effort. To undertake more is usually hazardous.

Whatever he does in college, the freshman should concentrate on doing the job well. He will observe soon enough that a certain minimum effort is expected in his studies to insure a passing grade; and it will not be long before he learns the art of doing the job in a hurry. But in his speed to be finished, he should remember that a well prepared lesson represents the difference between a workmanlike and a sloppy job.

SHREDS AND PATCHES

It is hoped that this column will satisfactorily take the place of "Wamba Says", a column which was conducted with fair success for the last three years by the CAMPUS. It is the intention of the editor of this column not to confine his subject matter to Middlebury College, but rather to include such material as he believes may be of interest to any Middlebury man or woman—and perhaps, to some of that august body—the Middlebury faculty.

With the departure of Dr. Concha, Middlebury has lost one of its most interesting faculty members. Although he had been here only one year, his scholarly work and his intelligence, which were perfectly blended with a God-given sense of humor, made his classes some of the most outstanding features of the college curriculum.

The absence of the famous rainparty and cap rush make this a vastly different campus from what it was a few years ago. Well, perhaps it's just as well, for there may be a few embryo Rudy Valees in the class of '34 who would be ruined by such uncouth manners.

"The well-dressed man will wear nothing but regiment striped cravats and socks to match, this season", says Beau Nash in a current New York theatre program. Not in this country, Mr. Nash, not in this country. There's a law against indecent exposure.

Speaking of theatres, have you seen that play at the Sam Harris Theatre (42nd St. just west of B'way) called "The Last Mile"? If not and it is still running, don't miss it the next time you're in the city.

We're heart-broken. Now we've got to throw all the cracks we had about Fairchild, Furness, and Buck in the waste-basket. Sic transit gloria mundi.

We take back most of the naughty things we've said about the Rutland railroad. Until this summer we had never suffered the ordeal of a journey on the Erie. That well-known line operates a pocket edition of Hades all its own.

Heard by a co-ed: "Don't you think that graduate student is so romantic?" "Ooh", replied the other (the cynic) "I don't know—he's from Columbia, you know."

Something must be wrong with the drama. A three-act play by Dr. Louis Anspacker yclept "The Rhapsody" which opened September 15 closed last Saturday night after only eleven performances. We wonder if the monocle had anything to do with it.

GLEE CLUB MEMBERS TO START PRACTICE

Intensive Preparation Will Begin Tonight at Rehearsal Under Prof. Larsen.

The tentative members of the Middlebury College men's Glee club will start intensive practice tonight under the tutelage of Professor Larsen.

With several fine voices added to the group, it is safe to predict a very successful season for the ensuing year. While it is yet too early to announce a definite schedule, Managers Fear and Falby are quite certain of three trips again. The first is planned to include a tour of western New York State; the second will be to the New England Intercollegiate Glee club contest, held this year at Hartford, Connecticut, February 27, and at the same time will include several concerts in various towns in Massachusetts; the third and last trip will take the club to New York city and thence down through New Jersey and possibly Pennsylvania.

In the past the Middlebury Glee club has been in great demand, and has taken one first place and two honorable mentions in the last five years at the New England Intercollegiate Glee club contest, this record being only surpassed by the Wesleyan Glee club, which has been national champion for two years.

"WHAT DOEST THOU HERE?" CHALLENGES PRESIDENT MOODY

Strive to Find the Purpose of Your Life and the Will of God.

He said in part: "'What are you doing here' may well be asked at this time. It is a question to wake you up, to crystallize the vague unformed knowledge you may have underneath. In a smaller application, what are you doing here in chapel? Are you here merely because the founders of this college thought that there could be no education without religion, and so made chapel compulsory? Or, are you here because there is somcthing within you that turns toward God? Why are you here at Middlebury? Colleges are possible only because some men have sacrificed much. It is to be doubted whether you are more worth educating than many others who could not come. Was coming to college merely filling a gap in your life, or was it a definite step in a life plan? In all things there is an outward compulsion and an inner one. Strive to eliminate that poorer motive and follow the inner and higher compulsion. Someone has said that the secret of success is obedience to the unenforcable.

When we consider the brevity of life, and the insignificance of man, why are we alive at all? Carlisle said that some men seemed to be here for no other purpose than that of wearing out shoe leather. Have you an aim and a goal? This question is a great challenge, and there can be no answer but that of Jesus: 'I came to do thy will, oh God'. All meaning is centered in our relationship toward God. The one reason for living is to find His plan for us, for the inner beauty of all things lies in their design. We may not see the purpose of our lives, but we can strive toward finding it, for we know that God has a will, a purpose, and a plan for each of us."

"ALMOST" NOT RIGHT SAYS PAUL D. MOODY

and generation on the one hand, or make the most of yourself on the other, aim at developing in yourself thoroughness. Learn to hate the 'almost', and rigorously stand on guard against halfway measures. Then you will have learned the true lessons of college, to think things through, to see all the facts clearly and in their relations to any problem. You will then be useful, and because you are useful you will be happy."

NEW PROFESSORS HERE THIS YEAR

Professor Rusby did all of his undergraduate work and most of his graduate study at Columbia university. While working for his A. B. and A. M. degrees there he taught economics in some of the high schools of New York city. He received his first degree in 1922 and his second degree in 1924. For the past five years he has been chairman of the economics department at Alfred university.

Sprague Takes Dutton's Place.

Miss Eleanor Sprague is here for a one year appointment as dietition in the place of Miss Mary C. Dutton who is taking sabbatical leave.

Miss Sprague's home is in Amherst, Mass. She graduated from Middlebury with a B. S. degree in 1925. The following years she studied dietetics at the Peter Brent Brigham hospital in Boston. Miss Sprague has held the positions of assistant dietition of the St. Luke's hospital in New Bedford, Mass., and dietition of the Framingham hospital in Framingham, Mass. She comes to Middlebury from the Robert Brent Brigham hospital in Boston. Miss Sprague is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Pereda Spanish Professor.

Clemente Pereda, Jr., will this year fill the place as the head of the Spanish department formerly filled by Dr. Carlos Concha.

Professor Pereda is a native of Porto Rico. He comes to Middlebury with an excellent record having taught for the past several years at Columbia university under the directon of the well-known professor of Spanish, Federico de Onis.

Professor Pereda is noted as a scholar and is keenly interested in Spanish literature.

Thomas Takes Voter's Place.

In the absence of Professor Voter, head of the chemical department and now on sabbatical leave, a new professor, Joseph Smith Thomas, will be at Middlebury this year.

Mr. Thomas received the degree of B. S. from Bowdoin in 1926, and the degree of M. S. from Middlebury in 1928. He was a graduate fellow in chemistry at Middlebury during the college years 1926-27, 1927-28. After receiving his masters degree, he went to Harvard university to take the position of assistant professor in chemistry there. He remained at Harvard for two years, 1928-29 and 1929-30. Professor Thomas now comes to Middlebury as professor of chemistry. He has been a member of the summer school faculty for the last four years.

Womack to Teach Chemistry.

Mr. E. B. Womack, formerly of the University of Chicago, has accepted the position in the chemistry department left vacant by the resignation of Ben B. Corson.

Professor Womack studied at North Texas Teachers' college and Union college, Tennessee. Following this, he did graduate work at Peabody college, University of Wisconsin and the University of Chicago.

Mr. Corson taught for seven years after receiving the M. S. degree. He last held a teaching position at Corson Newman college.

During the past year and a half Professor Womack has been doing research work at the University of Chicago where he received his Doctor's degree.

Mr. Womack resides at 123 South Main street.

Bougarel New French Instructor.

Miss Bourgarel's home is in Paris. She has been in the United States six years, and received her B. A. from Elmira college. She has a diploma from the Sorbonne in Paris.

Miss Bourgarel has taught French at Hollins in Virginia. At Middlebury, she will teach four classes.

Hammond Comes from Yale.

Lansing B. Hammond has accepted the post of assistant professor of English at Middlebury.

Mr. Hammond was graduated from Yale university in the class of 1930 with honors in English. He is an instructor in English Literature and advanced composition.

OLD SALES RECORDS ALREADY BROKEN BY 1932 KALEIDOSCOPE

Subscription Drive During Registration Week Succesful; Changes on Board Announced; Picture Taking Soon.

An office was opened in the gymnasium during the three days of registration under the direction of John Storm, business manager, and James Olson, circulation manager. Members of all classes cooperated well in enlarging the subscription list.

This cooperation was especially gratifying to Kirkland Sloper, editor-in-chief of the yearbook, who has spent much time in inaugurating new features. During the summer months he has been in consultation with editors of other college yearbooks, and several new ideas and layouts have been suggested for the improvement of the 1932 Kaleidoscope. Of course all these innovations increase the ever burdening expense, and thus a large circulation is absolutely essential.

It is the plan of the editors to get all work on the book completed at the earliest possible date, so that there will be the assurance that it will appear on time. Meetings of the board will begin this week and continue throughout the winter months. In order that the photography work may not hinder an early publication, it has been arranged with Warren Kay Vantine photography studios to visit the college during the week of October 13. At that time all individual and group pictures will be taken. Photography Editor William Leggett will draw up a schedule of appointments which will be posted several days in advance, so that any necessary changes can be made.

The editors announce two new appointments on the board to fill vacancies caused by the failure of Mary Birrell and Martha Crozier to return to college this fall. Christine Jones has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the women's circulation staff, and Nina Barber will hold the position of photography editor for the women's college.

During the summer one change was made in the staff, Anna Coleman going to the advertising staff, while her place as circulation manager for the women's college was taken by Marian Singiser.

GRIFFIN TO TEACH AT SOUTHWESTERN

Professor of Economics Leaves Middlebury After Four Years of Work Here.

Carlus Howard Griffin, formerly associate professor of economics, has accepted a position on the teaching staff of Southwestern University at Memphis, Tennessee.

Professor Griffin received the degree B. S. from Washington and Lee university and M. S. from Columbia. He took graduate study at Columbia during the summers of 1926 and 1927 and studied at Harvard this past summer.

Mr. Griffin is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi and of the American Economics Association.

DR. CONCHA ACCEPTS DIPLOMATIC POST

Professor Carlos Concha has resigned his position as head of the Spanish department of Middlebury College to become Peruvian Ambassador to Bolivia.

A month ago, Leguia, the president of Peru, was deposed, and Concha has been called to his native country by the new president.

Until eleven years ago, he was secretary to the president of Peru, but an upheaval in the government caused the overthrow of the president. Concha was forced to come to the United States. He arrived a penniless exile with no knowledge of English.

During his time in this country, he has done commercial work and has taught in several colleges. He has been dean of Spanish summer school here for seven years, and head of the Spanish department of the college for the past year.

His resignation from Middlebury has not been accepted, but President Paul D. Moody has granted him an indefinite leave of absence.

Professor Concha's record follows:

B. B. CORSON QUITS MIDDLEBURY POST

Ben B. Corson, assistant professor of chemistry, recently resigned his post at Middlebury to accept a similar position at Harvard university.

Mr. Corson has been a member of the teaching staff here since 1924. Prior to that year he attended Harvard where he received the degree of B. A. (Cum Laude), M. A., and Ph. D. He then spent four months at the Universite de Grenoble, France, in further study.

The former assistant professor is a members of Alpha Chi Sigma, an honorary chemical Greek letter fraternity. He belongs to the American Chemical society, the Harvard Boylesston Chemistry club and the Carbon club.

Professor Corson is the author of "Mechanism Underlying Reaction between Aldehydes or Ketones and Tautomeric substances of Keto-Enol Type"; "Journal of American Chemical Society", vol. 45 (1924); "Preparation of 1,4 Amenonaphthal Hydrochloride"; Organic Syntheses-vol. 3 (1923).

BACK TO SCHOOL AGAIN!
Yes, I had a marvelous vacation, and I learned something too. No more tired, aching feet to keep me out of sports — and out of sorts this year. For I discovered Queen Quality Shoes, the smartest, daintiest shoes I ever wore. And best of all they are reasonably priced too.

Taking Electrical Convenience From Ol' Man River
THE total capacity of waterwheel generators built by General Electric in the last ten years is more than enough to supply light and power for twenty cities of one million population.
Installed in power houses along the waterways, these machines transform the strength of mighty rivers into useful electric energy for homes, for industry, and for transportation.
The vision and skill of college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in its service of furnishing machines and devices that provide the swift, sure convenience and the economy of electricity — on land and sea and in the air.

SCOTTISH DEBATERS COMING HERE DEC. 2

Negotiations Also Pending for Appearance of German Team; Prof. P. C. Perkins New Forensic Coach.

Middlebury College will have the second international debate in its history Tuesday evening, December 2. At this time a two-man team representing the Scottish universities' union will appear here, according to announcement by William S. Weier '33, assistant manager.

Last year Middlebury entered the international debating field for the first time, having as an opponent Victoria university college of Wellington, New Zealand. So great was the success of this contest that it was determined to bring even more outstanding foreign teams to Middlebury this year. Arrangements have already been completed with the Scottish group, and negotiations are now pending for the appearance here of a German university team.

Question Selected.

In the debate with the Scottish team the proposition will be: Resolved, that mechanical and scientific progress do not necessarily represent advance in civilization. The visitors will affirm.

It is felt by the management that this question is one of unusual interest. The various aspects of machine civilization and industrialism are vital problems of the day, and afford excellent opportunities for debate.

New Coach.

Prof. Perley C. Perkins of the English department has assumed the position of coach of debating. Professor Perkins handled a very successful prize speaking season last year, and was an outstanding debater in his college days. In addition to coaching the varsity debating teams, Professor Perkins has also provided for increased interest in the field of college forensics by instituting a course in debating, English 26, entitled "argumentation and debate".

Experienced Debaters Available.

There will be no lack of experienced men for the coming season. In contrast to last fall, when the organization had to be built "from the bottom up", this year finds half a dozen well trained veterans ready for the beginning of activities.

Edward Yerovitz '33 spoke in five debates last year, three being Middlebury victories. Richard Sanzo '31 and C. Arthur Hazen '31 each spoke in four contests. Grey N. Taylor '32 in three, andThomas J. Duffield '33 in two. Other veterans of last year, all with intercollegiate experience, are Edwin J. Hendrie '33, William S. Weier '33, Anthony G. L. Brackett '33, Frederick Brink '33 and Aaron Schefkind '33.

Women Debaters Experienced.

Among those available for the women's team are several with previous training. Outstanding debaters include Mary Henseler '31, Jilda Pacheco '31, Marian Singiser '32, Eva Tuttle '32, Marion Jones '32, and Ellen Kellogg '31.

POWERFUL AND DECEPTIVE COLUMBIA ELEVEN OVERWHELMS SMALLER PANTHER GRIDMEN BY 48-0 SCORE IN FIRST GAME

MIDD. NEVER WITHIN SCORING DISTANCE

Hewitt Leads Victors With Three Touchdowns in As Many Periods.

A Columbia football team arrayed in new uniforms, under the tutelage of a new coach and using a new system rode roughshod over Middlebury's 1930 gridiron eleven at New York Saturday by a score of 48 to 0. The Panther's weak start was not due to poor coaching or lack of football knowledge, but was simply a case of being unable to cope with the manpower and deceptiveness of the Columbia attack. The Lions, stronger than they have been in years, flashed an attack which the Blue was powerless to stop.

Running up against a team much stronger defensively and offensively, the Middlebury aggregation was sadly outclassed. Not once could the Panther offense register a first down and all of the aerial attempts went astray. There was no hope of a Middlebury victory, but it was not thought that the score would mount too high. Columbia's strength is greater than last year by far and the final result of the game was not disheartening in the least. Against teams of the same class the Panther should look good as the eleven showed up as well as could be expected against the Lions.

Ralph Hewitt, the Lions' star backfield man, led the scoring parade with three touchdowns and a point after one of them. Stanczyk, Tys, Hodupp and Sheridan added the other Columbia scores. Middlebury never got into Columbia territory and consequently had no chance to score.

Hewitt scored the first touchdown early in the first period. After line plunges had put the Lions in scoring position, Hewitt romped around the end on a beautiful run to score. Grenda added the extra point. A 12 yard forward pass Hewitt to Tys who ran 33 yards scored the second touchdown in the same period. The try for the extra point was missed.

The Lions added another score late in the second period when a lateral pass put them on the five yard line. Hewitt lugged the leather across the goal line. Again the extra point was missed.

Two long runs, one by Hewitt and the other by Stanczyk gave the Lions two scores in the third period. A safety was also registered in this period when McDuffee, the Columbia center, blocked one of Huntington's punts and the ball rolled out of bounds directly behind the goal line.

Hodupp dashed 50 yards for a score in the fourth period and Sheridan scored on a line play from the 10 yard stripe in the same quarter. Hodupp added both extra points.

Although completely outclassed by a much heavier and better prepared team, the Middlebury eleven put up a game fight and showed promise of future strength. The line-up:

Columbia (48)		Middlebury (0)
Tys	L.E.	Hinman
Sherwood	L.T.	Perry
Grenda	L.G.	Whitman
McDuffee	C.	Nelson
Weinstock	R.G.	Duffany
Banko	R.T.	Huntington
Van Voorhees	R.E.	Thrasher
Hewitt	Q.B.	Markowski
Rivero	L.H.B.	Corliss
Wolkind	R.H.B.	Bakeman
Stanczyk	F.B.	Hartrey

PANTHERS GO TO WILLIAMSTOWN TO PLAY WITH WILLIAMS SATURDAY

Coach Beck's Middlebury football team will journey to Williamstown Saturday to give battle to the strong eleven which is representing the Purple this year. Williams beat Rochester last Saturday 20 to 0 with Captain Langmaid absent from the lineup. The strength of the team was apparent to even those not schooled in modern football and the Panther will be in for another tough Saturday afternoon.

The Williams team is built around an extremely fast set of backs. Captain Langmaid is no stranger to the Middlebury eleven as this is the third season he has played against the Panther. This shifty halfback is the star of the Purple attack, but he has able assistance from Fowle, Tuttle and Goode. An extremely strong running game coupled with a sound aerial attack features the Williams offense and it will take a tight defense to keep the Purple in check. It is improbable that the Purple attack is as deceptive as the one Columbia used, but it will be plenty dangerous.

Coach Beck has no star back like Sammy Guarnaccia to rely on this year, but his team is well balanced and well versed in the fundamentals of the game. Against Columbia, the Panther attack never had a chance to get going, but it is hoped that it will show itself against Williams to better advantage.

With Huntington and Whitman back in the line after an absence of a year the Middlebury forward wall is stronger than it has been in some time. Huntington was sorely missed last year, the loss of his steady punting being a big drawback. With "Red" back on the job, the kicking department is strenthened greatly. The only newcomer to the forward wall as it lined up against Columbia was Hinman at end. Hinman is big and fast and should prove capable of filling Valois' shoes, left vacant by the graduation of last year's "all state" end.

The backfield did not look so bad at Columbia although no ground was gained. The strength of the Columbia defense was too much for the Panther and the backs never got a chance to show up to advantage. They should do better against Williams although they will find the Purple line stronger than usual.

Columbia's one sided victory should not cast any gloom over the college as it was impossible for Middlebury to hope for better than a close score. The Lions have a better eleven than they have had in years and could not be stopped. Vermont was trimmed 41 to 0 by Amherst, a team not as strong as the Lions' so the Panther should forget the Columbia score and look forward to brighter things in the future.

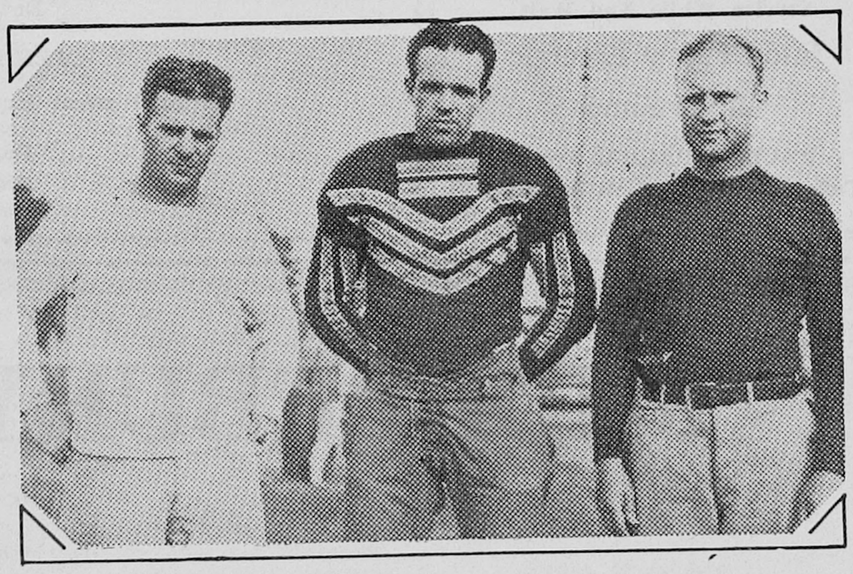
CAPTAIN and COACHES



Coach Phelan, Captain Perry, and Coach Beck

GARDNER CHOSEN HEAD OF HOCKEY

Audria L. Gardner '31 was elected head of hockey at a recent meeting of the Women's Athletic association council. Plans for the season have not yet been definitely announced, but it is expected that class practice will start this week. Interclass games are scheduled to take place in two weeks.

Miss Gardner has taken an active interest in hockey during the past three years. She has also played on her class basketball and volley ball teams. She is a member of Wig and Pen, and served on the Junior Week play committee. Miss Gardner has been a CAMPUS reporter and was assistant business manager of the 1929 and 1930 Handbooks. Last year she was custodian of the Women's Athletic association, house chairman, and member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Midd. Graduate Elected Officer of American Legion

Moses G. Hubbard, '13, has been elected judge advocate of the American Legion department of New York.

Mr. Hubbard is well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed, having been in the legal department of the Legion for two years, and he also has an enviable record as a lawyer in Utica.

During the world war he was in the air service of the American army and since the war has been connected with the American Legion, serving as post commander in 1921-1922.

At Middlebury college he obtained an A. B. degree, and later an Ll. B. at the Columbia law school. Mr. Hubbard is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternities.

Archery Practice

Archery practice for freshmen and sophomore women was held Tuesday on the athletic field, under the direction of Virginia Cole '31. Practice for juniors and seniors will be held later in the week.

FROSH FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGUN

The freshman gridiron squad has been rapidly getting into trim on the frosh football field, under the supervision of Cach Harvey Hessler assisted by Edward F. McLaughlin '29.

The potential first team has not yet been picked nor have the boys been subjected to any intensive signal practice.

Over thirty freshmen reported for the initial practice, and from all appearances this year's frosh team should be heavier than those of past years. Numerous prep and high school captains and stars are among the candidates, and if their past records are authenic, the football team of the class of 1934 should come through to win another Green Mountain conference championship for the blue and white.

The first game of the season will be held with Clarkson Tech frosh on October 11. The Clarkson boys have always given the Panthers a run for their money, and the result of this game will be a good indication of what may be expected from the blue and white frosh team for the rest of the season.

The complete schedule follows:

Oct. 11, Clarkson Tech frosh, away; Oct. 18, Clark School, here; Oct. 25, Vermont frosh, away; Nov. 1, Vermont Academy, away; Nov. 7, Norwich frosh, here.

HARRIERS PREPARE FOR BUSY SEASON

Varsity to Have Six Meets This Year. Veterans are Captain Perrin, Cox '31, Harwood '32 and Woodward '32.

Candidates for the cross country team have been practicing regularly since September 22, and seventeen men reported to the call for varsity candidates which was issued by Manager Harold S. Sniffen, Thursday.

A dozen aspirants to the freshman team have also reported to take their first workouts with the varsity.. Clarence A. Lilly '32 is assistant manager of the sport this year.

Of the runners who graduated in June the loss of Ex-captain Dalton is keenly felt, but there are hopes of having a somewhat better balanced team than last year to help remedy this weakness. The remaining members of the team will be chosen after a trial run which will probably be held Saturday.

The schedule of meets promises to be the most difficult run by the Panthers for several years and consists of the following races:

Williams	October	11	here
St. Stephens	October	17	there
Norwich	October	25	there
Springfield	November	1	here
R. P. I.	November	8	there
Vermont	November	15	here

The freshmen will engage in only one meet, that with Vermont on November 15. This race will be run on the Panther course for a distance of three miles. Two or three freshmen have already shown good promise as contenders against the Catamount yearlings.

FRESHMEN ADVANCE FOR TENNIS TITLE

Many Upsets Provided by Underclassmen in Annual Men's Tennis Tournament

The outstanding feature of the men's tennis singles tournament which opened Saturday afternoon has been the play of three freshman entrants who have eliminated two of the seeded players.

All of the first round and most of the second round matches have been completed, and should these freshmen continue their play it would not be surprising to find a first year man the college champion for the first time in many years.

The greatest upset of the tournament was the defeat of Loomis, varsity player of last year, by Hendrie '33. While Hendrie showed a rather weak assortment of strokes, his extreme steadiness carried him to an easy 6-1, 6-2 victory. In the second round he met less opposition in Eaton '32 whom he defeated 6-0, 6-1.

The three freshmen players which the tournament has thus far brought to the foreground are Robart, Flagg, and Jennings. The former easily downed Roller '34 in the first round 6-0, 6-1, and then won 10-8, 6-2 from Sloper '32, seeded number 1, who had previously defeated Tyler '34 6-0, 6-1. Flagg, who is a left hander like Robart, has not as yet met any stiff competition. He crushed Hand '33 6-0, 6-1 in the first round and then defeated Cushing, former Fitchburg High star, 6-3, 6-2. However it is probable that Flagg and Robart will meet in the semifinals of the lower bracket, and a good match should result.

ANNUAL MIDDLEBURY NIGHT HELD IN GYM

Men's College Gathers for "Pep" Rally; President Moody, Prof. Kingsley, Richard Paul '30, and Samuel Botsford '00, Speak

The annual Middlebury night was held last Thursday evening at McCullough gymnasium and was combined with a rally for the Columbia game.

E. Parker Calvert '31, presided and introduced Richard A. Paul '31, president of the Undergraduate association, as the first speaker. "Dick" emphasized the importance of starting in with extra-curricular activities as early as possible. He said that some men wait until their junior or senior year to try out for something and then are surprised when they get nowhere. The small college is the ideal place to develop personality and all Middlebury students have come to the right place. Here all the advantages of the small college are kept and some of the advantages of a large one are added.

President Moody, the next speaker, said that he wished "Dick" had continued in the same vein, and went on to point out the intellectual advantages of the college. "Prexy" said it is his desire that this be made the best small college, not only in New England, but in the whole country.

The guest speaker of the evening was Samuel Botsford, a graduate of the class of 1900, and at present general chairman of the chamber of commerce of the city of Buffalo, New York. Mr. Botsford told several interesting facts about life at Middlebury in his day and offered high praise for the work of the band and the high spirit that was evident at the rally.

Professor Kingsley, back from his sabbatical leave, told of the condition of the public and private schools of England and on the continent. He had great praise for the schools of England and said that the system there was unrivaled in the world. He went on to outline the advantages of Middlebury in a scholastic way and appealed to the students to make the most of their opportunities.

The varsity cheer leaders led the crowd in cheers and songs, as the meeting was held in conjunction with the Columbia game rally.

The college band made its first appearance of the year and drew high praise for the quality of its work.

FRESHMEN SURPRISE IN NET TOURNAMENT

'31, seeded number 5, in the first match for both men. Neither player was in top form as Jennings won in straight sets 6-4, 6-4.

Volkmar, who was placed in number 2 position, was forced to the limit in defeating Wade '34, 8-6, 6-4, and then was in better form to win from Dumas '34, 6-2, 6-1. Allen '33 won in straight sets from both Nelson and Viehman to advance to the third round.

The closest match thus far recorded is that between Sargent '32 and Sprague '34, the former winning 6-4, 6-8, 6-4.

Other freshmen who have shown promise are Kerr, Cushing, Swett, and Wade. The first three of these won their opening matches, but Cushing lost to Flagg in the second round. Kerr showed good form in downing Root '34, 6-2, 6-3, and he will meet Daland in the second round.

The Summaries:

First Round: Volkmar dft. Wade 8-6, 6-4; Dumas dft. Fairbanks 6-4, 3-6, 6-4; Jennings dft. Huntington 6-4, 6-4; Swett dft. Noonan 6-0, 6-1; Hendrie dft. Loomis 6-1, 6-2; Eaton dft.
